The year 1964-65 was marked by a series of events bearing political overtones: the raucous conventions; the relentless campaign between Goldwater and Johnson; the presidential election; and finally, the inauguration.

While the eyes of Homesteaders were eagerly focused upon the national political scene, the eyes of the Crest were focused upon Homestead and the events in the lives of the Highlanders.

The superintendent is the chief administrative officer of the district, working directly with the Board of Education; and he is responsible for the over-all operation of the school district. In this capacity the superintendent selects and recommends all faculty and non-instructional personnel who are employed by the district; he is responsible for the high school program and the adult activities; and he is in charge of business management functions for the district.

The duties and responsibilities of the principal are many and varied. He is mainly concerned with the day to day operation of the school. This involves scheduling, supervision, discipline, the curricular and extra-curricular program, and a myriad of problems that arise during the school day.

Mr. Dixon

Mr. Peregrine

Due to our larger enrollment, the job of co-ordinating attendance records has become increasingly more complex. This year Mr. Peregrine has assumed the position of co-ordinating these records and also of admitting students who have been absent.

Dr. Banks and Miss Giles

The guidance department not only helps plan the students' programs every year but also tries to make each student realize his own potential abilities. By emphasizing a students' positive attributes, the guidance counselor hopes to help him plan his future in regard to his choice of college or vocational training.

Mr. Chesley, Miss MacIntyre, Mr. Howe, Miss Smith, Mr. Gorski, Mr. Parkinson, Miss Morovits, Mr. Curran.

The English classes, in addition to furthering their writing, speaking, and listening skills, broadened their scope of literature. While the freshmen read the works of Charles Dickens and Shakespeare, the sophomores were kept busy with such classics as JULIUS CAESAR, JANE EYRE, and A TALE OF TWO CITIES. American literature was concentrated on by College Prep 11 and Terminal English 11 classes. College Prep 12 students worked with English literature, which included a detailed study of Shakespeare. MACBETH, and modern literature were studied by Terminal 12 classes.

OUR LITERARY HERITAGE . . .

... AND WE BECAME THE

Mr. Howe

This was a year for speeches, and oratory was prominent in the H.H.S. classrooms as well as in the political soap-boxes. Parliamentary procedure was a major issue for the Sophomores as was the matter of developing and improving their speaking techniques. Having mastered the fundamentals of good speech, the students of advanced speech practiced various methods of discussion, argumentation, and interpretation of prose and poetry. Dramatics students put their knowledge to good use in a number of actual scenes and one-act plays.

The reading center offers reading courses to meet the needs of all types of readers by offering programs in reading improvement, developmental reading, and accelerated reading.

Pictured is one of the latest reading machines, the Tachomatic 500 Projector, which is used for group reading training. This machine is used with students in developmental and accelerated reading classes.

The objectives of the courses are to improve rate of reading, increase comprehension, increase vocabulary, secure greater adaptability and flexibility in the use of reading techniques and broaden intellectual horizons through reading enjoyment.

COMMENTATORS

The Bagpipe, Homesteads literary magazine was published for the fourth time, and was edited this year by Karen Schoettler and published by the Hi-Lites staff. As an all school effort, a contest was held to select a cover design, students were encouraged to submit original stories and poems, and the art classes printed the covers.

The school library is the materials center for the entire school. All the materials are selected and purchased with the students in mind. The faculty is instrumental in selecting materials that will be beneficial to students in meeting required assignments. The materials include newspapers, pamphlets, phonograph records, filmstrips, slides, tape recordings as well as books and magazines.

WE LEARNED TO COMMUNICATE

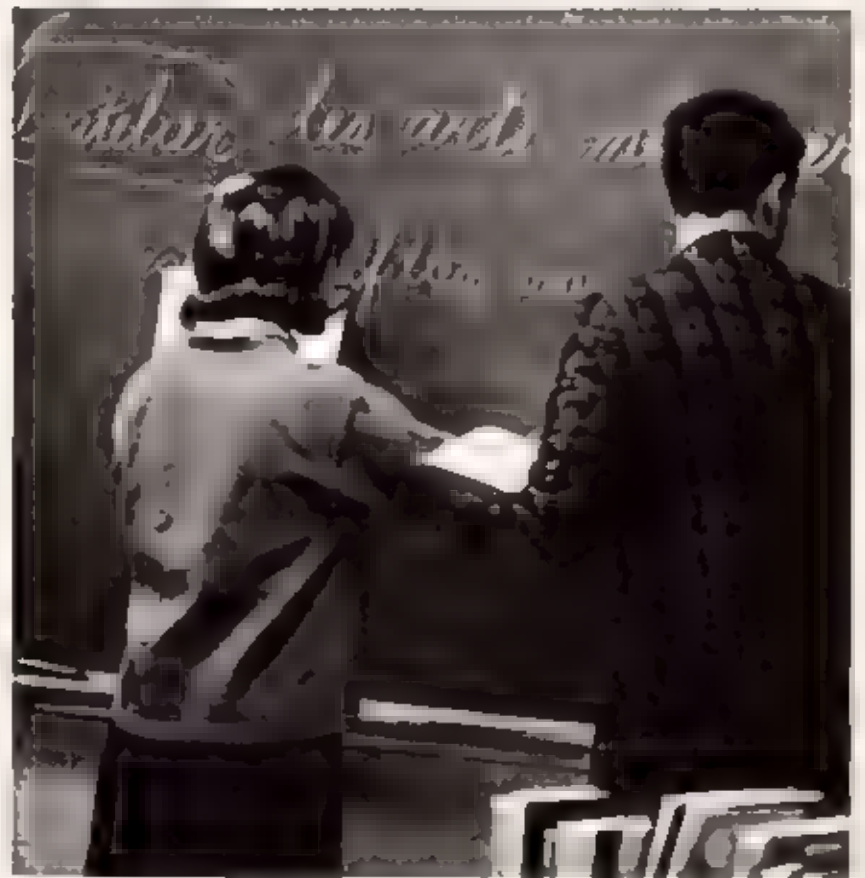

Miss Steinwand

Mrs. Schulte

Mr. Dees

Language communications are among the most important elements for world understanding. This understanding necessitates a knowledge of the history and culture of a country along with a knowledge of the people and their language. Homesteaders familiarize themselves at various levels with the languages of five foreign countries: French, German, Spanish, Russian, and Latin. Fluency was obtained through tapes and practical application, in addition to classroom instruction and homework.

WE REVIVED THE PAST AND

Mr. Scheffer

Students of social studies prepared for their roles in life as active, well-informed citizens. The underclassmen broadened their horizons by surveying the great cultures of the world, while the juniors concentrated on the historical issue and current events of our own country. Senior students of Latin American and Far Eastern civilizations were busy following numerous crises, just as students of the United States' political and economic structure experienced a year filled with examples.

Mr. Dayton

Mr. Miller

Mr. Pinkowsky

INTERPRETED THE PRESENT

The fifth hour Problems class held a mock election in which regular voting procedures were followed and all students could participate. The purpose was to depict a real election and to find out the reasons people didn't vote. The results were: Goldwater 341--Johnson 334; Knowles 466--Reynolds 204. 200 students did not vote because of absence, lack of interest and time, and misunderstanding of the election.

NEW FRONTIERS WERE EXPLORED

After exploring the solar system, energy, conservation, and measurement, Homestead freshmen began to specialize. Sophomores pursued the study of living organisms through study, experimentation, lab work, and daily instructions. The understanding of the principles of chemistry were then developed. The upperclassmen studied our physical world with experiments and demonstrations. Advanced science students enrolled in our problem solving course. These students did numerous group and individual projects. Other upperclassmen surveyed in detail the earth, weather, chemistry, machines, and other such areas.

A PROGRESSIVE MOVEMENT WAS SEEN

Mr. Spearbraker

Mr. Jordan

Mathematics is part of everything we do and is, therefore, important. Here at Homestead most students have mastered basic skills and are beginning to delve into the more specific aspects of math with the aid of films, 3-D models. After learning the use and value of sets and equations, which involves a new math vocabulary, the students became able to open their minds to work with figures in a logical manner. From there they went into such areas as trigonometry, analitical geometry, calculus, and math seminar.

The boys aid the faculty by setting up projectors and tape recorders, and by showing films.

Originated last year, honor study hall had a rocky beginning. Through the more restricted selection of students and through the revision of rules, the honor study hall has overcome its difficulties and has finally found a permanent place at Homestead.

CREATIVITY WAS EXPRESSED

MRS. VIERTHALER

Two of the art department's main goals are to develop a sensitivity to, and appreciation of, art; and to help in the development of a well-integrated personality. These aims are fulfilled through the diversity of art forms offered. This year the use of "plastic" paints, which are more versatile than oil paints, was introduced. Art Appreciation is required of all Juniors who have not had at least one year of art. The emphasis of this course is placed on the many ways in which art affects present day living and thinking.

MR. SEYFERT

Band and chorus are extracurricular organizations that meet every day. Students have the opportunity to join one of three choruses: freshman, concert, and girl's glee club. Students from these groups are chosen to sing in quartets, sextets, triple trios, and madrigals. There are two bands in which Homestead students may participate. Freshmen play in the cadet band while upperclassmen belong to the concert band. Students from both groups are chosen to play in the pep and dance bands.

MRS. LA POINT

Through their Phy. Ed. activities students developed initiative, good health habits, and sportsmanlike attitudes. The program here is based on an alternating year idea. The first year the activity is presented and skills are developed. The second year is spent on review and competition. The students enjoyed team activities such as football, soccer, basketball, and volleyball. The individualists had their time to shine in golf, tennis, apparatus, and track.

STUDENTS ENTER LOCAL RACE

Driver's Education is a required course for sophomores, acquainting the students with Wisconsin traffic laws and road sign meanings. During class time, tests for co-ordination and reaction were given and schedules for the simulator and behind-the-wheel driving were drawn up. The mechanical principles of an automobile were learned with the aid of new textbooks and a Ford engine which was presented to the school.

WITH COMPLETE NEWS COVERAGE

Homestead's publications are the result of the combined efforts of the student body. The Hi-Lites, our school newspaper, owes its success to student journalists and photographers who contributed their time and talents to the paper. The CREST is the product of a year of work combining photographic, literary, and artistic talents of a select number of Homestead students.

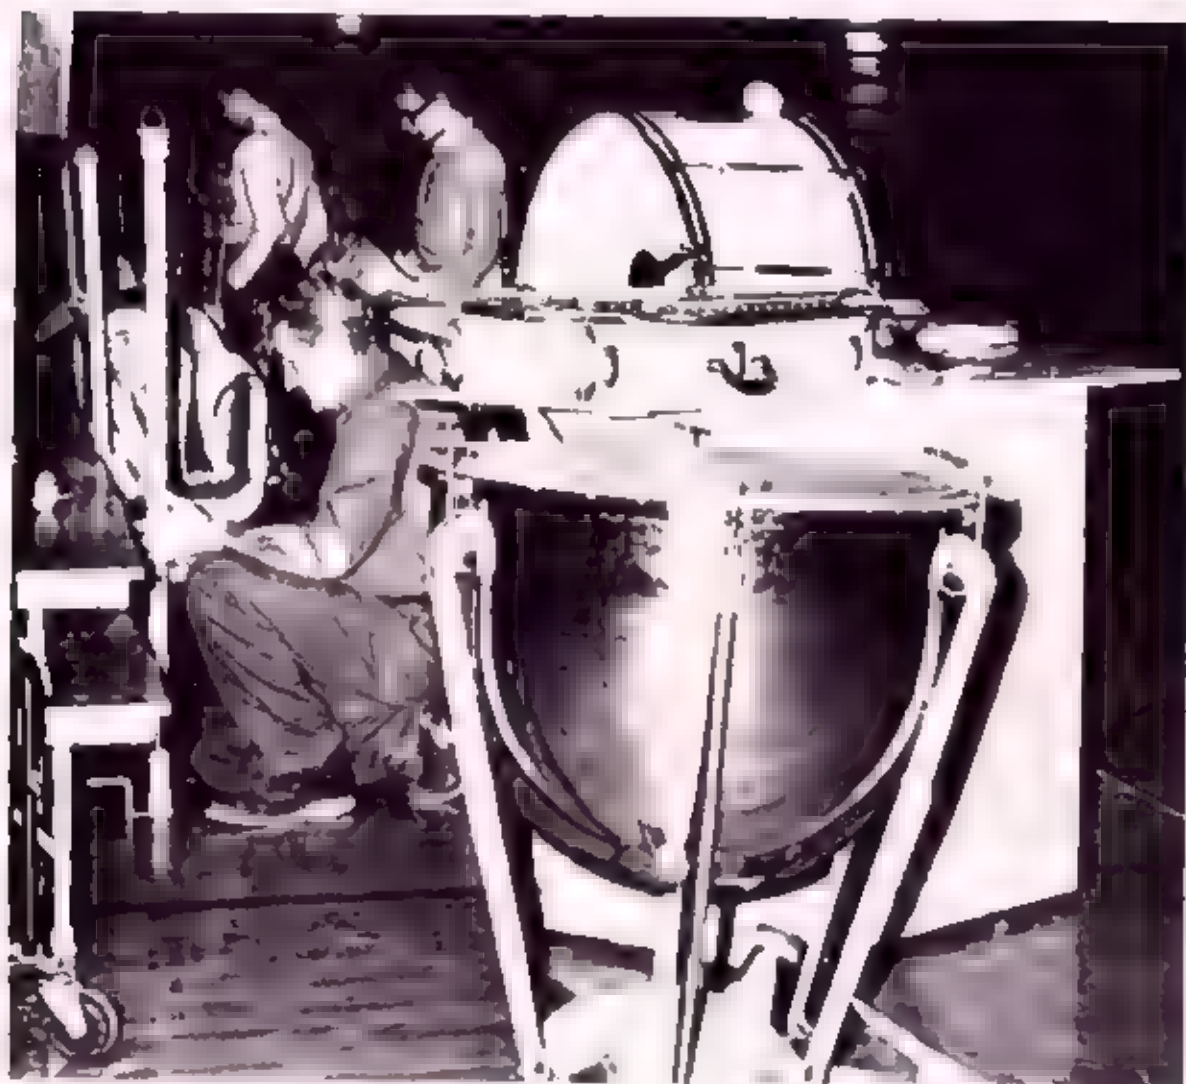

ENTERTAINING CONSTITUANTS

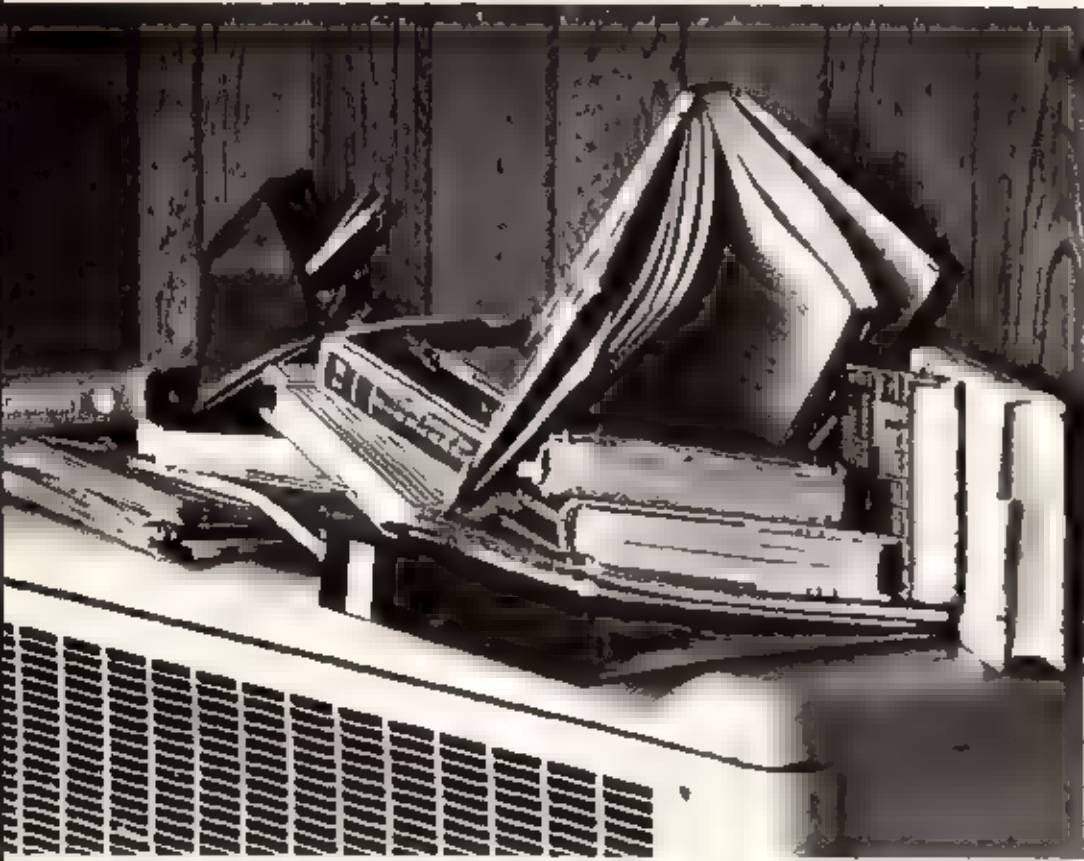

Through the selective assemblies presented the students were able to enrich their minds. Glenn Cunningham, an olympic running star, was the speaker at our first assembly. He pointed out the dangers of smoking and drinking. On Veteran's Day advanced speech students gave a choral reading which summarized the significant wars in which the United States has participated. Correlated with the reading were songs of America's past sung by Colleen Covert, who was accompanied by guitarist Reed Kailing. In March, singer Marianne Flor gave a vocal concert. A representative from the Bell Telephone Company presented an interesting demonstration in April. In the final assembly awards were presented to outstanding students in a variety of fields. Occasional pep rallies were held throughout the year.

The Junior class named the Victor A. Nowak Company for production of their class rings again this year. Members of the Class of '66 could choose from a number of items in Nowak's stock. The most popular items were the traditional or college style ring, the pin, and the lavelier. This was the first year that the school was offered two different ring types.

CREST KNIGHT

The Crest dance was held on January 29, 1965, following a basketball game with rival Cedarburg. The purpose of the dance and the Guardian of the Crest contest was to raise money to finance the yearbook.

Scott Egelhoff, the freshman nominee, was selected as Guardian of the Crest by an overwhelming number of votes. Escorting him to the throne at the dance were Val Smith and Connie Hardman. Dave Egelhoff, Bill Nabak, and Pete Olsen were the other nominees.

OUR FOREIGN DIPLOMACY

Mauro Picchio, A.F.S. student from Italy, says:

When I first arrived, I was really surprised to see how many many differences I was able to find between the United States and my own country. Obviously, I wasn't expecting to find everything like in Italy because my country is about seventeen hundred years older than the United States. Besides this, it is important to consider the mind of the country I am from: Italy is a Latin country, and as a rule Latins are more conservative than Anglo-Saxons. I can say that the people of the United States have a more liberal life than Italians, and, to be sincere, I like the American standard of life better than the Italian although I don't complain about my life in Italy. By spending a year in the United States I learned that it is wrong to judge a foreign country just by reading an article in a newspaper.

I live in Alessandria in northern Italy. My address is Via Lavanais 3h, and if anyone from Homestead will ever visit me, I'll be glad to show him how life really is in my country.

This is my sister by one of the crosses of the Dolomites.

I often go to Camogli in the summertime.

Here are my father, sister, and mother.

STARTS AT HOME

Judy Tiew, A.F.S. Student from Thailand, says:

My living in America has been a most valuable experience. Of course, I feel that life in a different country is different in many ways. What are the differences? Well, in language and customs, such as "Hi" instead of "Sawatdi," a little more of a rush in doing things, and the rights of the kids to show their ideas. There is also a difference in food. However, I realize that there are some basic moral principles and ways of behaving that are common or should be common! This means that people in different parts of the world can make understanding, which is the goal of the peace that we need in our world today.

The love and understanding I have gotten will stay in my heart and this love and understanding will be shared with other Thai people.

My home address is 322/1 Sapan Yao, Opp. G. P.O., New Road, Bangkok, Thailand. Welcome every American!

Here I am with the other members of my family.

Sue Kraebien is Homesteads A.F.S. student to Australia. By leaving in January, she was able to arrive in Denistone, Australia in time for her fall semester at Methodist Ladies College. She has been kept busy with barbeques, teas, and luncheons. She has also visited such places as Royal National Park, Wollongong Beach, and Palm Beach. We're looking forward to hearing more about her experiences next January when she returns.

ONE OF THE FAMILY

The American Field Service has a reputation of producing a creative variety show. This year's show was no exception. Tryouts were held three weeks before the show and after a few rehearsals the show was presented to the public on April 9 and 10. "One of the Family" included a few dancing routines, six folk singing groups, and a variety of other acts. The house was sold out for the two shows three days in advance.

Last year the Student Council sponsored a Powder Puff game to raise money for the Highlander memorial. Because the game was such a success and so much money was taken in, the Council sponsored another game this year.

On October 17, 1964, the Junior girls met the Senior girls on the Homestead football field. The Juniors, coached by Greg Moore and George Kluessendorf, were nicknamed the Frilly Fillies, and the Seniors, under the direction of Dave Sorgel and Steve Schwandt, were known as the Gridiron Ghomers. The girls passed, blocked, and tackled, showing the fans what they could do in a game usually reserved for the boys.

Although the Frilly Fillies fought hard, they were no match for the Ghomers, who triumphed, 26-6. Pictured here are the winning Seniors, both teams in action, and the Senior cheerleaders, Mike Oas, Dave Scott, Rick Siemann, Al Tietz, Rick McCutcheon, and Glenn Scheele.

HOMESTEAD?

The annual Home Economics Style Show was held on April 28, 1965. The purpose of this show is to give the Home Ec. students an opportunity to model the outfits that they have made during the year. The girls modeled for their parents, friends, and other interested persons.

WE TALKED OURSELVES INTO

Homestead's debate team had a 82-70 record in the 1964-65 season. This year the topic was "Resolved: Nuclear weapons should be controlled by an international organization." The debators received recognition of their achievements through awards presented by the National Forensics League.

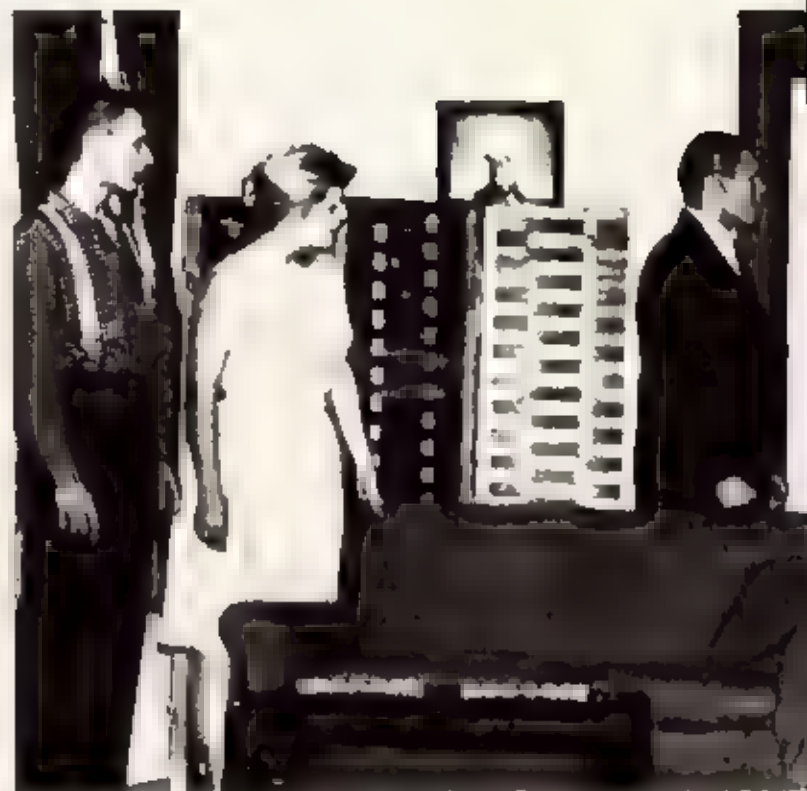

TIGHT CORNERS

Forensics is an extracurricular speech activity which allows students to work in nine different categories. This year our forensics team placed fourth in the conference. Nine members went to the district meet, and five of these nine won "A's" and will be going on to the state meet in April.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

In November, 1964, the Senior Class presented "The Death and Life of Larry Benson." Larry Benson, (Rick Wegner) joined the army but hadn't been heard of for a long time. His mother (Mary Schmit), father (Wally Schoessow), and sister Jessie (Dorothy Zaeske) had assumed that he was dead, but as the play opens news has just come that Larry is coming home. As the family is preparing for Larry's return, Jessie's friends Susan and Mary Ellen (Karen Waedekin and Diane Baranek), Larry's former girl friend and her fiancé (Bettie Larus and Ken Czimny), neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Potter (Rick Gutwald and Barb Hardman) friends Nettie Clark and her son Melvin (Kathie Schalk and Rick McCutcheon) and one of Larry's old teachers (Kathie Adamek) came to visit. But the boy who returns is not Larry but a homeless friend who was with him when he died and wants to take Larry's place. In the end the family welcomes the boy into their home as a replacement for their own son.

LIFE WASN'T ALL TESTS AND

On Tuesday, March 16 the students had their chance to meet the faculty on a common ground. It was fun to see the teachers let down their hair and enjoy it, too. After seeing the faculty players it seemed improbable that such a motley crew could play basketball. But play they did, and well, too. The game was full of action from the start as teachers, students, and the ball went flying through the air. The loyal faculty cheering section, led by several female faculty members, were well paid off when the faculty, led by top scorer Golden Hands Miller, came out on top, 58-52.

TERM PAPERS

Mr. Irresistable, a new feature this year, was sponsored by the student council. Mr. Irresistable was the boy who, at the end of the day, had the largest number of ribbons. Each ribbon was presented to him when a girl found his charm "irresistable" and just had to talk to him. Homestead's first Mr. Irresistable was sophomore Mike Wright. This event was a huge success, according to the student council, and they hope to make it an annual event.

REPRESENTATIVES WERE

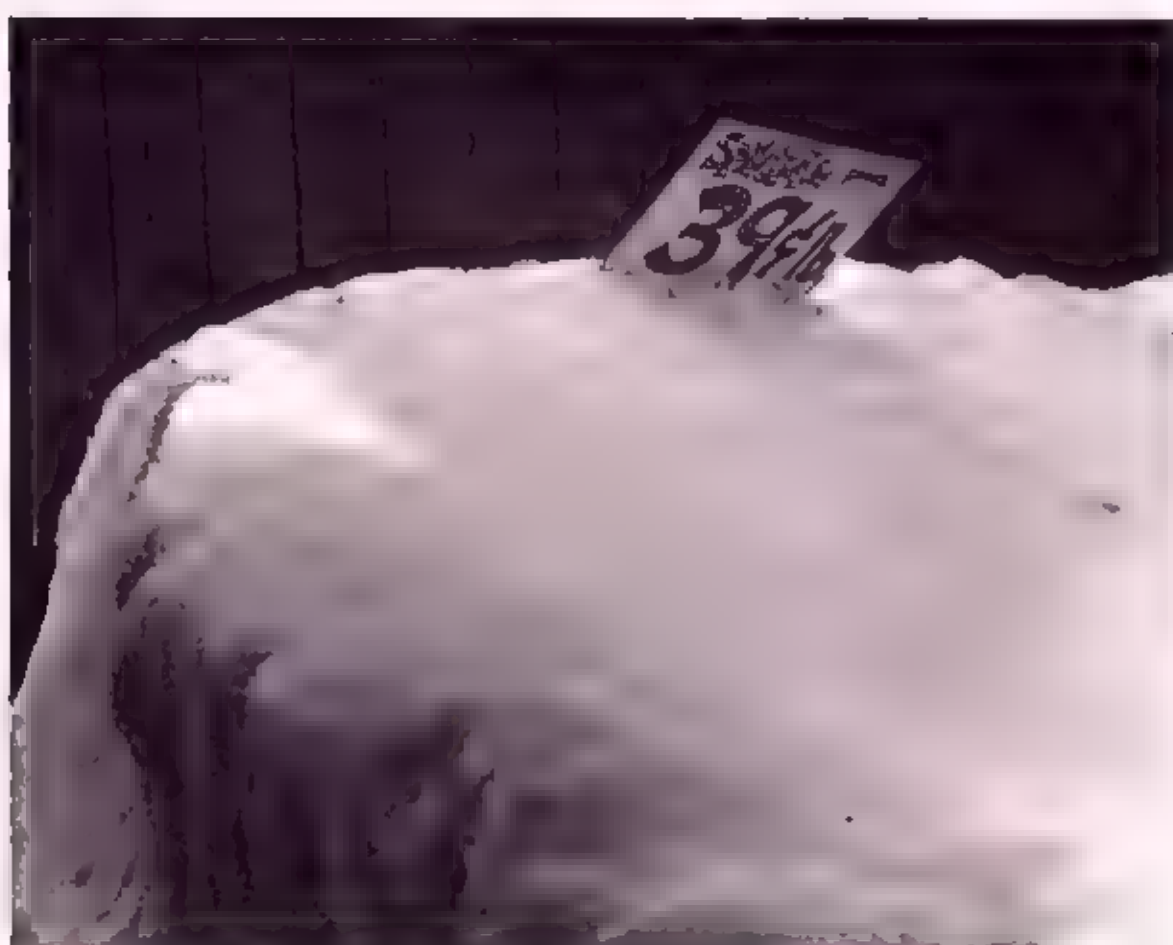

Honda rider Ken Szfranski drove his Honda to school one January morning and acquired two frost-bitten ears from lack of protection. A fund is being set up to buy Ken a stocking cap . . . The Administration has been pushing for shorter haircuts among the male students. Rumor has it that senior Dave Sorgel intends to get a Mohawk haircut this summer . . . On hearing about the Mr. Irresistible contest, senior Al Tietz exclaimed, "What am I going to do with all those ribbons?" Good luck, Al . . .

LOOKING BACK ON '65

Rick Laubenstein is a blind boy attending Homestead this year. Here he is pictured doing homework at his special typewriter.

Many startling answers were received when a member of the CREST staff asked a group of students what they would like to ban from the United States. Here are some of the replies: Durwood Kirby, READER'S DIGEST, Bugs Bunny, spiders, Hauley Mills, weeds, protest groups, pay toilets, gypsies, Connie Stevens, Superman, Anacin commercials, and aardvarks.

Queen Kris Lewis and Football Captain Wally Schoessow

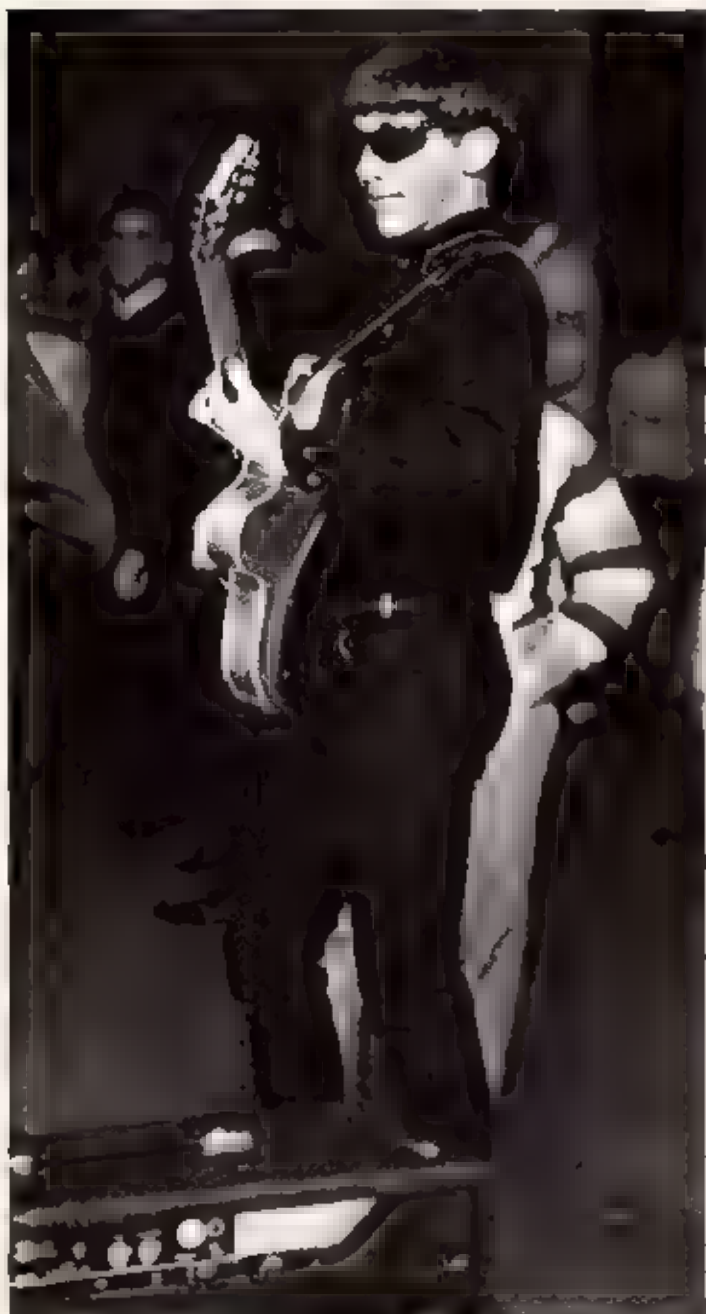

Larry Van Dyke and Renee Gagne, Peter Olsen and Sandy Yenter, Wally Schoessow and Queen Kris Lewis, Dana McElroy and Rick McCutcheon, Chris Dannenfelser and John Liggett.

Homecoming festivities started with a pre-game band program at 2:30 on October 9, 1964. The football game against the Port Washington Pirates followed. At halftime the band played and Queen Kris Lewis and her court were presented. Although we lost the game, Sandy Bauch plunged through for our first touchdown of the season and our spirits were not dampened. The winning senior float and floats made by the other three classes and by the band were stationed in the parking lot during the game. Saturday night, October 10, Homestead students and alumni danced at "Ode to Autumn" where the queen and her court reigned.

WE DEMANDED OUR RITES—

Mixers were held about twice a month on Friday nights. Most of them featured bands composed of Homestead students, such as the Destinations, the Coachmen, and the Radicals. These mixers were sponsored by different clubs and other organizations to raise money for various activities. Besides the mixers there were three important dances: Homecoming, the spring dance, and the Junior Prom.

Many of Homestead's students took advantage of the hot lunch program. The cooks worked hard to give the students a tasty, well-balanced meal. In addition to their daily preparation of hot lunches, the cooks also prepared food for various other functions.

Our janitors are also busy maintaining our school. Their job encompasses a number of duties which all add to the beauty and enjoyment of Homestead.

SECRETARIES FILED THE LAWS

Office help is essential to the efficient running of a school. School records, files, and other paperwork were handled systematically in the office by our secretaries. Keeping attendance records, selling lunch tickets, and other necessary jobs were also handled by the secretaries.

The Junior Varsity had an unusually rough season and was defeated in all six of their games. There was a sophomore team for the first time this year and the sophomores won both of their games, overpowering Brookfield Central 18-0 and Whitnall 24-6. A number of J.V. players were on the varsity team for a few games, and Coach Pinkowsky notes that he has a fine group of boys to move up to varsity positions. Several of these boys could be outstanding athletes in the '65 season.

Since Homestead was established our freshman football teams have managed to win only one game. This year's freshmen were no exception to the losing tradition. They finished the season with a 0-5 record. However, two of their games were close contests in which the boys lost 7-13 and 0-7, and there are a number of boys who are on the way up to varsity positions. Perhaps the season can best be summed up in the words of Coach Curran, "No comment."

ATHLETES WENT ON A

The Homestead Varsity Football team offered a classic example of what can happen when the whole team graduates. Things looked black for the Highlanders until the third game when Sandy Bauch plunged through for the first touchdown. We managed to defeat our rival to the North, Cedarburg, by a 13-6 score, and Rufus King defeated us to avenge our victory over them last year. The boys who did fight out this tough season did what they could, but the opposition had all the breaks.

WHISTLE-STOP TOUR

The Homestead Cross Country team won quite a few meets this year. The Homestead harriers won in five out of their eight dual meets; won the Ozaukee County meet for the second year; and came out fourth in the conference. Only three teams managed to defeat us, among them the state champion. Coach Noltner is looking forward to another good year with all but two of his starters returning.

A SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN BY

Starting Line-Up: Dennis Helvey, Steve Schwandt, John Liggett, Dave Egelhoff, and Rick McCutcheon.

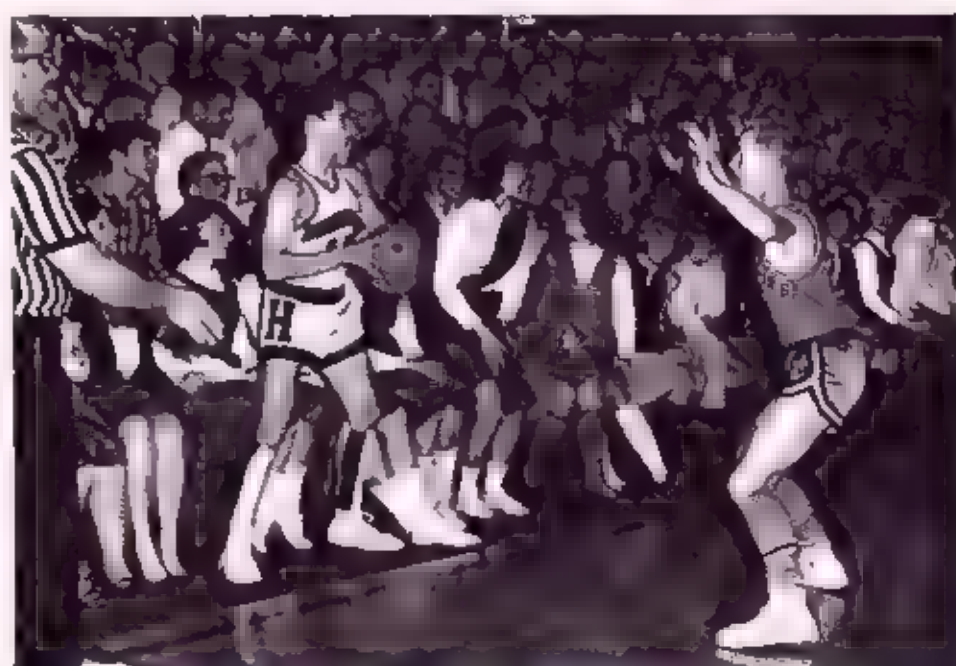

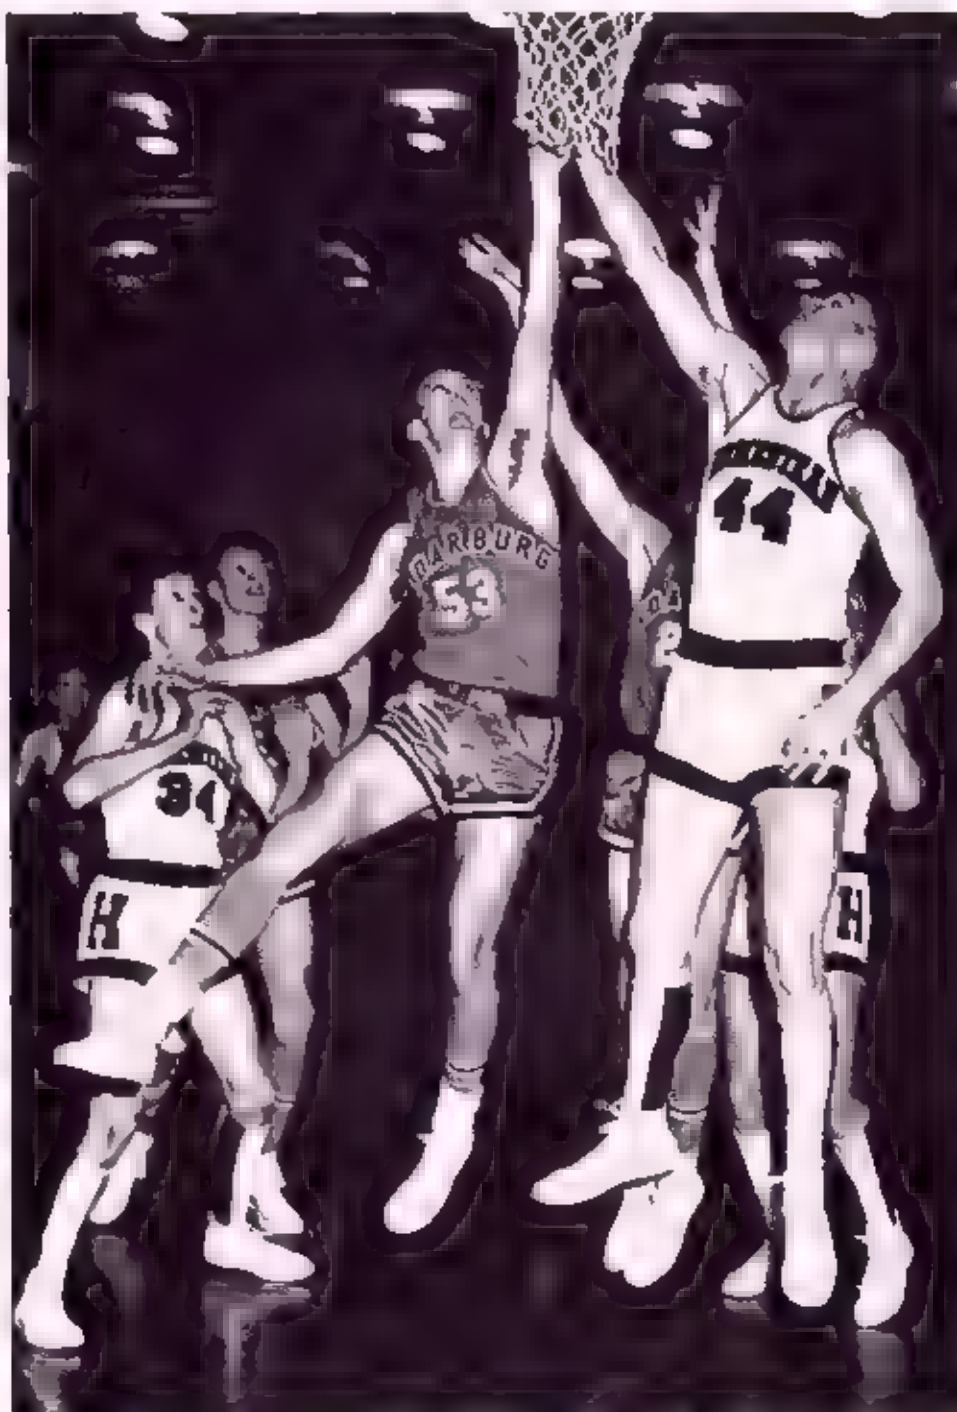

THE BIG FIVE IN LOCAL RACE

The 1964-65 Varsity basketball season was full of surprises until the very end. First of all, it was always interesting to see who would be the guard starting with Helvey; would it be Belcher, Schneeberg, McCutcheon, or maybe Nabak? The fans also watched to see if Samp would ever dunk one along with the big three, Schwandt, Liggett, and Egelhoff.

There were also surprising games, such as Hamilton's win over Nicolet which made the Knights seek revenge against us and beat us. Although we may not all remember those games, we will probably not forget losing to Brookfield Central by two points in the last few seconds or scrambling to break Granville's stall. Finally, there was the last game against Central where we unfortunately lost amid a flurry of fouls and missed rebounds. After two championships, second place is a little hard to take, but we finished with a fine 13-3 record.

JUNIOR LEGISLATORS WERE

VARSIITY. ROW 1: T. Witte, G. Bandlow, Coach Peregrine, R. Belcher, J. Roethel, M. Belcher. ROW 2: C. Jahn, K. Martyn, D. Helvey, B. Schneeberg, G. Moore, S. Schwandt, J. Liggett, D. Egelhoff, G. Samp, B. Nabak, R. McCutcheon, T. Urban, M. Wittaker.

PREPARING TO MOVE UP . . .

Loyal Homestead fans who came early enough to see the J.V. games saw the best Junior Varsity team we have ever had. The Junior Varsity won half of their conference games, including the first J.V. victory over Nicolet in Homestead's history. They also came very close to winning in three other games. All told, it was a very successful season, and Coach Miller pointed out quite a few fine varsity prospects.

JUNIOR VARSITY. ROW 1: F. Matejov, J. Sekeley, J. McQuide, C. Krafcheck, S. Comte, R. Antisdell. ROW 2: J. Nebel, H. Fancher, C. Schroeder, T. Morrissey, M. Leske, Coach Miller, A. Timm, K. Schroeder, R. Colburn, F. DuPont.

WITH FRESHMEN BEHIND THEM

Chuck Connors, Dave Schmitz, and Scott Whittaker.

Things were looking up for the freshman basketball team this year, they had the best season on record with a 10-7 total. This was a good indication of what Homestead can look forward to from these boys.

AND SOUGHT VICTORY

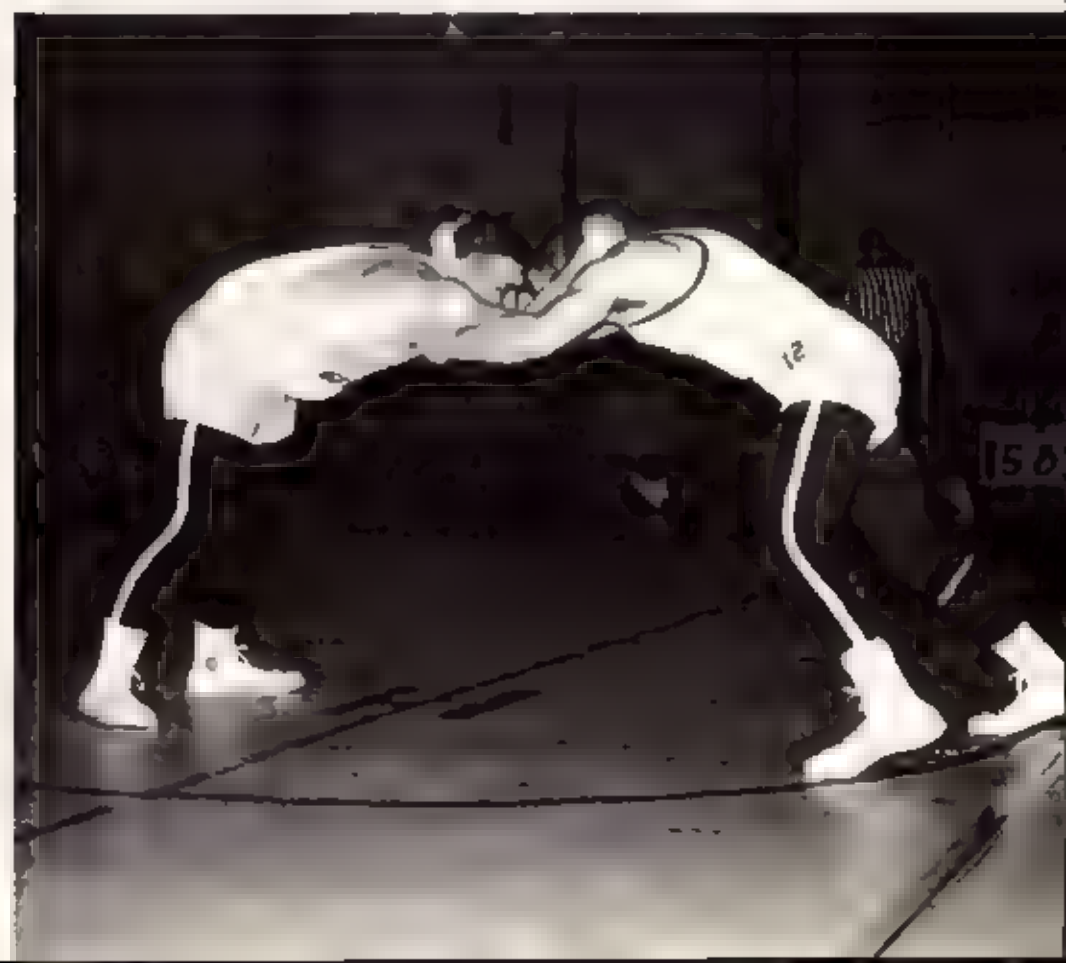

This year as the CREST was going to press the 1965 track season was just getting under way. In the past two years Homestead has met with tremendous success in Class B competition. Our track team was Class B state champion in both 1963 and 1964 and also won numerous invitationals. This year we are in Class A and may meet with stiff competition in sectional meets. A number of boys are returning from last year and Coach Pinkowsky feels that he will be able to mould a successful '65 team. Since we have a new track, we will probably see increased support from the student body.

WE GRAPPLED FOR BETTER

POSITIONS

The 1964-65 wrestling season was quite a success story for Homestead. From last year's cellar position the Homestead matmen fought their way to a third place standing in the conference. This year also saw an increased interest in the sport on the part of the student body. The Braveland conference meet held at Homestead was particularly well attended as we clinched our third place position with three second places and a championship performance by Jerry Kaemmer. Since there were seven sophomores on the varsity there should be talent for next year and we may see wrestling become more popular.

The Student Council supported the Highlander Memorial, which was built to serve as a focus point for Highlander spirit and strength. The Council also continued Honor Study Hall to encourage honorable and leadership qualities. Improving the school community, helping students to assume responsibility, and encouraging desirable qualities of leadership were some of the main objectives that the Council fulfilled through these projects.

Homestead's A.F.S. Chapter consists of adults from the community in addition to a representative from each class, former A.F.S. candidates, and the Student Council vice-president. The chapter raises money for A.F.S. through projects such as the Variety Show, makes our A.F.S.'ers feel welcome, and selects American Abroad candidates.

The Science Club, one of the original clubs at Homestead, got a revamping this year. As a stimulus to activate the members and further their scientific interests, the club offered the opportunity for project work, guest speakers, films, demonstrations, and field trips, which included trips to the Museum of Science and Industry, the Southeastern Wisconsin Science Fair, and the Marquette Medical School.

This year the Photo Club, formerly the Camera Club, has more members, more equipment, and more knowledge than ever before. In addition to working for their own pleasure, the members are also working in conjunction with the Hi-Lites staff and Crest.

Members of the Home Ec. Club were active in learning the social graces and responsibilities of the modern homemaker. The Christmas season found them preparing for the Faculty Tea and stuffing animals, which they donated to an orphanage. In the spring they sponsored the Father-Daughter Banquet.

The Hi-Lites, Homestead's newspaper, is put out approximately once a month by the journalism class under the supervision of Mr. Gorski. Because members of the staff solicit advertising and sell subscriptions as well as reporting the news and writing the copy, the newspaper functions as a self-supporting business. In addition to publishing the Hi-Lites, journalism students produce the Homecoming programs and the Bagpipe.

This year's Crest staff has devoted time and effort to bring you this year's yearbook. Four of our staff members were delegates to the Wisconsin Editor's Conference in Madison. They brought back a number of new ideas, such as using candid shots and more copy.

The student body did its part to make the yearbook a self-supporting organization by electing a Guardian of the Crest and attending the Crest sponsored dance.

SUMMER SUPPLEMENT

Varsity Tennis, ROW 1: J. Brock, J. Kolb, Coach Peregrine, J. Koberstein, J. Bartell. ROW 2: M. Belcher, D. Furey, K. Schroeder, J. Liggett, P. Hiltgen, J. Gunther, J. Adamek.

WE HAD RACKETS AND CLUBS . . .

Homestead's tennis men had to meet some of the stiffest competition in the state, but they were still able to get 23 wins against 19 losses. Coach Peregrine's predominately sophomore team finished third in the conference, their highest standing to date. Mr. Graham will acquire a fine squad when he becomes head coach in 1966.

Golf is another sport which is just becoming established at Homestead. This year the golfers were fifth in the conference and a close third in their sectional. Coach Spearbraker will have his four sophomores back next year, including state meet qualifier Mike Pritzkow.

All we can do is speculate about the outcome of the baseball season. Coach Peregrine is wary of his weak pitching, but he does have enough experienced boys back to try to beat last year's fourth place finish.

Freshman Tennis, ROW 1: C. Conner, D. Egge, Coach Graham, C. Kase, M. Rahoy. ROW 2: J. Carlson, T. Hanel, J. Waterman, S. Egelhoff, J. Ward, B. Johnson, R. Kanack, C. Roska.
